THE FULL GOSPEL TO THE WHOLE WORLD!

ONITSHA - STREAMS OF LIVING WATERS AT THE NIGER RIVER////

On November 22nd, evangelist Schott arrived at the airport in Asaba, Nigeria. The journey continued by car, across the Niger river into Onitsha. The impressive river runs through five West African countries. It is the third longest stream in Africa and supplies well above 100 million people with water. On this weekend however, other streams were to reach the people of Onitsha – streams of living waters!

Evangelist Schott had been invited by Rev. Egbuona to be one of the guest speakers at the Gospel meeting in Onitsha. Big billboards were announcing the event. The expectations were high, as the evangelist from Germany was about to proclaim the Gospel.

The Word of God sounded powerfully over the PA system, and the distant echo seemed to emphasize the message. Daniel preached a simple and direct sermon on healing. It was a fiery message that was heard, understood, and received. Time and again the crowd shouted, "Hallelujah," as the evangelist pointed his mic at them! The streams of living waters were flowing, and as the Gospel message was coming to an end, there was no need to convince people to act on it. The evangelist counted to three and the people streamed to the stage, to receive forgiveness of their sins. Heaven rejoiced!

A loud and aggressive prayer time followed, as evangelist Schott confronted diseases, curses, and demons, and commanded them to go. God's healing power was released. The visitors were visibly touched and many were healed! Finally, Daniel asked the people to shout out loudly, "Hallelujah," to give God all the glory. Seven mighty Hallelujahs sounded through the night of Onitsha!

JESUS, THE SAVIOR IS BORN!!!!

Jesus, the savior is born! Every year around Christmas, Christians are reminded about this message. Really, it is the central message of all – always current and effective!

Jesus Christ is the only hope for a sinful world, with all its abysmal outgrowths of human depravity! Jesus was not just a poor Jewish street preacher, instead he was and is God, and he has a world-wide masterplan of salvation! He is not a crisis manager, full of sophisticated suggestions, neither is he a rescue assistant. No! He is the embodiment of salvation. Salvation is the essence of his innermost being. He always saves and cannot do otherwise!

His intention is not to just save people from their self-destruction, but instead also to save them from the wrath of God, "He saves us from God's anger..." (1 Thess 1:10) Jesus therefore did not come to just improve our world or to meet our personal needs. No! He came to save each human being from eternal hellfire. Nothing less than that!

Those who have understood and who already know Jesus have much reason to rejoice! However, one should never stop at that only! Jesus wants every Christian to continue his mission. He wants to save through us and challenges the believers, "... save others, snatching them out of the fire." (Jude 23)

Only once a person has heard the saving message – the Gospel – does he or she have a chance to accept it and to receive eternal life. Evangelism is therefore the most important mission Christians have!

Together with you, we want to give people a chance to get to know Jesus as their savior. We count on your future support and thank you for your faithfulness.

Jesus, the savior is born!

Daniel Schott

In those two days, thousands of people received forgiveness of their sins. Some gave their lives to Christ for the first time. Over 100 people were healed and others delivered. Many gave testimonies about their healings on the stage. The streams of living waters had reached Onitsha!

Before the major Gospel meeting on Friday, revival meetings were held in a church. Pastors from various cities had come to attend the annual program of the church. Evangelist Schott preached challenging messages on Wednesday and Thursday night. The Lord confirmed his word through many signs and wonders. People were healed and delivered.

On Friday night, a Gospel meeting took place under the open sky. Popular Christian artists performed on the stage for hours. It was an impressive worship experience. Till the early morning hours, lively and anointed worship sounded into the dark of Isokoland.

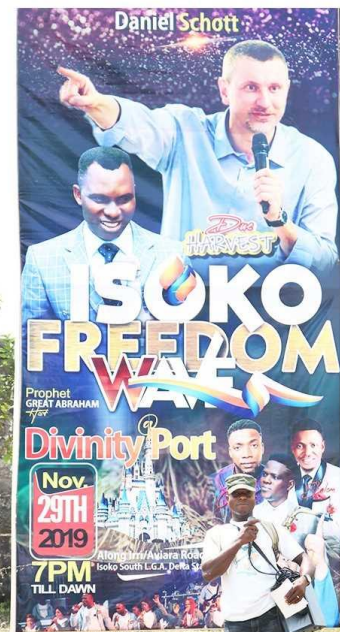

Well after midnight, Daniel was invited unto the stage. He preached about the love of God. The message touched the visitors and many hundreds of people streamed to the altar, to receive forgiveness of their sins and to return to God their father. Kettle drums and trumpets sounded again – this time in heaven!

ISOKO – KETTLE DRUMS AND TRUMPETS!!!!

A warm welcome, with kettle drums and trumpets was awaiting Daniel Schott in Isoko, Nigeria. A group of Christians welcomed the evangelist from Germany, as the band was playing music. Lead by an SUV with blue lights and a wailing siren, they proceeded loudly through the streets of the town, to let people know that the evangelist had really arrived. Daniel waved at the people and many waved back, delighted to have seen the white preacher in person.

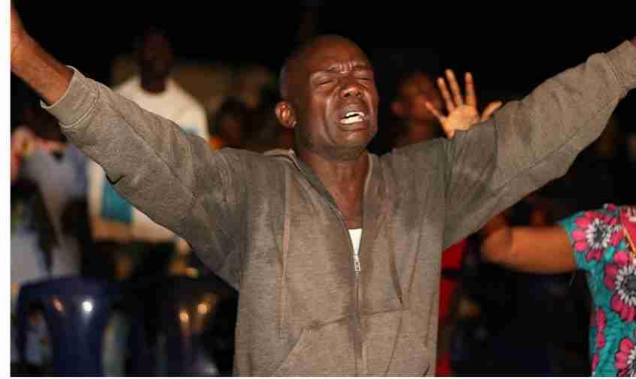

While the new believers were taken care of, the evangelist began to minister healing. The visitors had understood God's unconditional love and received healing from their heavenly father. Many testimonies followed. Among the healed people was a woman who had been healed from deafness on one ear.

A man who had been hit on the head with a glass bottle six years earlier, had had pains ever since. At the Gospel meeting, a small piece of broken glass came out through his scalp. He showed the evangelist the very spot on his head. The pain was gone! God had demonstrated His love and power.

After preaching, the evangelist was asked to pray for Isokoland, which had undergone times of bloody violence in the recent past. Leaders from various places came forward to represent their municipalities and to be prayed for. With a loud voice the evangelist rebuked the forces of darkness over the land and blessed it with peace.

Isokoland would never be the same again! Thank you, Jesus!

NEW PUBLICATION: PHÄNOMENE////

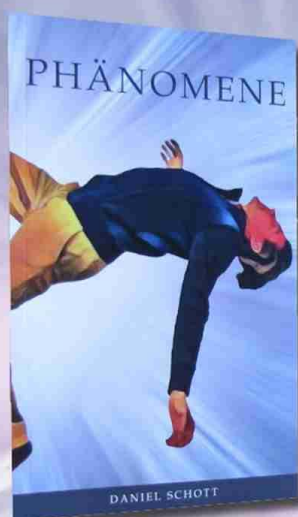

A new book by Daniel Schott is out. It is called Phänomene and is available in German only. Order your free copy at the GEN office (free shipping within Germany) or download it at <http://gloevanet.org/mediendeu/ressourcen>.

The blurb reads:

People going through difficult situations, at times encounter the supernatural power of God. Having experienced that power, many begin to think and to seek the God of the Bible. They ask genuine questions about manifestations, that accompany the move of God.

Evangelist Daniel Schott gives surprising and biblical answers to questions about supernatural phenomena. He shows that those manifestations are part of a normal Christian life, even today.

This book will make you think and animate you to dig deeper.
