THE FULL GOSPEL TO THE WHOLE WORLD!

RAIN, MUD, AND MIRACLES!!!!

It is a miracle that the crusade in Ethiopia could take place. After a challenging phase of fundraising and with the help of various donors, we were able to cover the cost of the crusade. From 16.-19. November it finally happened: On the central market square of the village of Gununo, in southern Ethiopia, Evangelist Daniel Schott preaches the Gospel.

The atmosphere is already heated on the first evening and people are full of expectations. Clouds of dust sweep through the air while the crowd sings and dances in enthusiasm. The joy runs through all the events. Again and again the crowd rages. People jump, wag their clothes or throw them high into the air. Even as the rain turns the dust into mud the next day, the excitement continues. People are hungry for the Gospel and God's supernatural work. And they would not be disappointed!

HUNGRY CHRISTMAS!!!!

No, it was no coincidence that baby Jesus was placed in a manger! Yes, it were the known circumstances in Bethlehem that led to this. And because of this, the manger became a prophetic finger-point for Jesus' life mission. He would become the "feed for the world" – the bread of life!

And it was also no coincidence that Jesus was born in Bethlehem of all places. Bethlehem means "house of bread" or "house of flesh". That's exactly what Jesus has become! He, the bread that comes from heaven, became flesh and dwelt among us. He became the bread that gives the world eternal life, and by the wounds inflicted on his flesh we are healed. Jesus is God's answer to the world's hunger – that's Christmas!

I am in Ethiopia right now. In Gununo, a village in the south of the country, thousands received the bread of life last weekend – some for the first time. Jesus saves! Jesus heals! Thank you Jesus!

But sometimes it's the personal encounters that move you to tears. I had the privilege to lead the sound engineer, who has served us several times, to Jesus. What a wonderful moment! He received the bread of life.

This year, I was able to serve in 15 countries besides Germany, and I can tell you that the world out there is hungry for Jesus!

Thank you for your support.

I wish you a lush Christmas!

On the first three evenings, Evangelist Schott preaches about various healing miracles of Jesus. He illustrates what is said by reenacting scenes from the Gospels on stage. The crowd follows with excitement and understands the clear but simple messages. Again and again, Daniel pauses and points his microphone towards the crowd. The crowd reacts with resounding Amen and Hallelujah calls. The Evangelist drags the crowd along and leads them to the climax of each evening – the call to repentance from sin! People who need forgiveness of their sins either come to the stage or raise their hands. This is followed by joint salvation prayers.

Afterward, visitors experience the miracle power of God. Some of the visitors have traveled from far away to receive urgently needed healing. Accompanied by music in the background, Daniel confronts diseases, curses, and demonic forces aloud and with authority. He calls specific diseases by name and commands them to disappear in the name of Jesus. Finally, all are asked to confess in faith: "I am healed by the stripes of Christ!" The crowd answers repeatedly. Then the Evangelist asks the visitors to check their own bodies for miracles.

Many raise their hands to signal their healing. Some of the healed people come to the stage to testify to their healings afterward. They report that they have been freed from various and sometimes long-term diseases. Again and again the Evangelist asks: Who healed you? The healed answer "Jesus" or "God". The crowd shouts in unison: "Hallelujah! Hallelujah!" There is great joy!

On Sunday, the last day of the crusade, it occasionally pours in torrents – unusual for this time of year. There are difficulties with the sound system. Nevertheless, visitors come and wait on the muddy ground to hear the Gospel. After all, Evangelist Schott preaches a short message in the rain. The rain cannot stop the move of God – the Lord saves and heals! Finally, Daniel asks the local pastors on stage and some of them pray for revival in Gununo.

During the four days of the open-air event, the majority of visitors receive forgiveness of sins. These include people who choose to live with Jesus for the first time. More than 300 people are healed. Gununo is forever changed!

EUROPE NEEDS REVIVAL!!!!

Between the crusades, Evangelist Schott serves almost every weekend in churches and at conferences. His primary concern is revival. He calls Christians to repentance and challenges them to a devoted lifestyle. The Holy Spirit works healings, miracles, signs, and wonders. Christians are touched, and the fire of revival is spreading!

Especially noteworthy are the events that took place in October in the heart of Stockholm. The organizers advertised in the city's subways on a large scale. There were enormous challenges in the run-up, but in the end, the power of the Gospel prevailed. Evangelist Schott preaches clear and direct messages, and the visitors react surprisingly open to the altar calls. There are conversions and healings. Tears are shed on stage during the subsequent testimony time – a miracle in itself, considering the very reserved mentality of the Swedish people.

AMAZON REGION, BRAZIL – A DIFFERENT KIND OF FIRE!!!!

In November Evangelist Schott served in Brazil, in the Amazon region, for the first time. For years, this area has been plagued by an increase in forest fires. Even in the gym where the conference takes place, the smoke is noticeable. But this weekend a different kind of fire is to be lit – the fire of revival.

Daniel is one of the guest speakers at the CIIUC conference in Autazes, a municipality about a hundred kilometers east of Manaus. After a very time-consuming, exhausting, and sometimes adventurous journey, it is finally time. The Evangelist preaches dynamic revival messages. Drenched in sweat, he challenges the participants to react to the messages. People flock to the stage to receive forgiveness of their sins and experience the power of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit works powerfully. The revival fire is lit!
